

Ironically,

ADVERTISEMENT

POTTSTOWN CITIZENS FOR Enlightened LEADERSHIP

$25 million investment in Pottstown

MRS. SMITH'S FACTORY COMPLEX was demolished in early 2000s. The vacant, yet-to-be restored Meyerhoff shirt factory building is at the rear.

NEW GATEWAY TO POTTSTOWN — Hanover Square townhouses and mixed use buildings on the site of the former Mrs. Smith's pie factory, as seen from the Hanover Street bridge, was built by Rockwell Development.

SIXTEEN BRICK HOMES comprising the north side of the 300 block of Laurel Street, shown above and below left, were constructed as affordable housing by the Bringham Trust in 1877. After the Trust was dissolved in 2021, the homes were bought and renovated by Rockwell Development.

Great track record

Last week, we discussed a $2.5 million proposal by Rockwell Development Group to rehabilitate two Lastick Furniture Store buildings at High and Charlotte streets into retail and market rate apartments. No entity has a better record of development in Pottstown, which currently totals more than $25 million invested.

MEYERHOFF building, last used by Mrs. Smith's and vacant for years, was restored for $2 million by Rockwell Development.